

EXCLUSIVE OFFER FOR LONDON GRID FOR LEARNING ON-LINE USERS

Use as much Audio Network music as you like in your next DVD or Video project from fifteen pence (or less) per copy.

Under the on-line agreement between Audio Network and The London Grid For Learning ("LGFL"), students and teachers are allowed to use [synchronise] as much Audio Network music as they like from the LGFL web-site in their audio-visual projects and are allowed to create one copy of a DVD or Video and one additional DVD or Video for back-up purposes free of charge.

The LGFL music synchronisation licence does not cover the sale of audio-visual products or the reproduction of additional copies of videos, DVDs, or other products containing the musical compositions whether or not for sale.

LGFL and the Regional Broadband Consortia have negotiated a special low-cost rate with Audio Network for UK based students and school users to clear both (1) the music composition rights and (2) the music recording rights to reproduce and distribute or sell up to 500 copies of your student or school DVDs and Videos containing Audio Network music.

This new low-cost limited distribution licence created uniquely for authorised LGFL users gives you the right to sell and reproduce the authorised number of DVDs or Videos, covering all the Audio Network music you use in student or school audio-visual products*, for a single payment per production (inclusive of VAT) as set out in the application form below:
